Problem – Solution Fit Template:

The Problem-Solution Fit simply means that you have found a problem with your customer and that the solution you have realized for it actually solves the customer's problem. It helps entrepreneurs, marketers and corporate innovators identify behavioral patterns and recognize what would work and why

Purpose:

- ☐ Solve complex problems in a way that fits the state of your customers.
- ☐ Succeed faster and increase your solution adoption by tapping into existing mediums and channels of behavior.
- ☐ Sharpen your communication and marketing strategy with the right triggers and messaging.
- ☐ Increase touch-points with your company by finding the right problem-behavior fit and building trust by solving frequent annoyances, or urgent or costly problems.
- ☐ Understand the existing situation in order to improve it for your target group.

	Who is your customer? Employees across the organization who face payroll, access, infrastructure or HR-policy issues (individual contributors and managers).	What constraints prevent your customers from taking action? Only informal channels exist (email, chat, phone); no dedicated portal was promoted; employees often don't know who to contact for each issue type.	Which solutions are available to customers today? Generic IT/HR shared mailbox, informal chat with colleagues or a manager, or calling the helpdesk - all unstructured and untracked.

No standardized way to capture, categorize or route issues; they are logged as free-text emails with no ticketing, ownership or SLA.	What does your customer do to address the problem? Employees send an email or chat message to HR/IT and wait, then follow up manually after a few days if there's no response.
